

News ReleaseFor Immediate Release: September 28, 2018*Contact: Pauly Swanson 907.796.1520*APFC Promotes Marcus Frampton to Chief Investment Officer

Juneau – The Alaska Permanent Fund Corporation announced today that Marcus Frampton, CFA, CAIA has been promoted to serve as the Chief Investment Officer.

Chair Craig Richards provides: "After considering many highly qualified applicants for the CIO position, the Board is convinced that Marcus is best situated to continue the remarkable success the Permanent Fund investment portfolio has recently experienced."

"I am pleased that Marcus has been promoted to CIO, and it demonstrates APFC's commitment to providing a rich work experience and opportunities for career growth," said Angela Rodell, Chief Executive Officer. "Marcus has proven himself to be a passionate and dedicated investor, contributing a tremendous amount of value to the Alaska Permanent Fund. I have confidence in his ability to take the Fund forward."

In reflecting on his new role, Marcus notes that: "It is a tremendous honor to have the opportunity to serve as APFC's next Chief Investment Officer. I appreciate the confidence and trust that is being placed in me and look forward to working hard to deliver on the objectives of APFC's stakeholders."

Marcus Frampton, CFA, CAIA joined the Alaska Permanent Fund Corporation in September of 2012. He recently served as the Acting CIO and the Director of Investments, Real Assets & Absolute Return. Prior to joining the APFC, Marcus held diverse roles ranging from investment banking with Lehman Brothers, private equity investing with PCG Capital Partners, and was an executive with LPL Financial, a private equity backed portfolio company.

Mr. Frampton holds a BA in Business-Economics with a minor in Accounting from UCLA.

###